A new annual report serves as a reminder to us all that another year has gone by. I see time as a gift – and it is up to each of us how to use the time we are given. For some of us time seems to fly, for some it drags on and on, some of us put every last second to use and some just fritter it away.

Service to others is a very worthy and meaningful use of our time. It is one of the best investments we can make, whether as individuals or as organizations. If the Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague, which is an association of those who are meant to help, has performed its services well and conscientiously over the past year, then it has done the best it could.

Recently I met with a man our Caritas has been helping. He was on his own and Caritas has been a great help to him. He stopped me and thanked me for the aid we provided him during the floods. The details are not important, but I realized that this is exactly the sort of situation where the church shows its true essence. Serving others. This is when we know we are doing the right thing. The Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague has helped a great many people over the past year. You can see specific numbers for the various projects and social services described in this annual report. This charity work is not simply helping those who need it, of course, but also gives witness to the church's untiring love for those who are suffering. This is an important signal to the rest of the world. In addition, the time we spend in this service is a blessing to us as well as those we serve.

And so we would like to thank everyone who make it possible for Caritas to continue its work. Everyone involved in Caritas work in some way is making a great contribution. Caritas is a mosaic and every single stone is important. The mosaic needs them all and would be incomplete if any were missing.

My wish for us all is that Caritas can continue its work in future years as well and that we all use our time well and keep in mind the needs of those around us. If we do, we will all be happier and our society will be a better place.

Interview with the Director

JAROSLAV NĚMEC, DIRECTOR OF THE CARITAS OF THE ARCHDIOCESE OF PRAGUE, TALKS ABOUT CARITAS ACTIVITIES OVER THE PAST YEAR AND PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

How did the past year look from the perspective of the Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague?

Successful, because our clients – seniors, families, young people and anyone in difficult circumstances for any reason – were able to use our services in their full extent. We even expanded some services, and thousands of people in other countries also received aid from us. The Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague celebrated 20 years of international co-operation last year. In 1993 we supported the first children in the Child Sponsorship program. To celebrate the 20th anniversary, we set up the Sponsor a Hospital Bed program, a new donation program to support the St. Charles Lwanga Buikwe Hospital, a Czech hospital in Uganda. I am very pleased to see the reaction this program has received from donors and I hope that we will be able to finance hospital operations as a whole in this way in the future.

When they look back on 2013, our workers will probably remember the June floods that affected many areas in the Archdiocese of Prague. We had some high points as well, though, such as when the Minister of Foreign Affairs gave the ministry award Gratis Agit to Caritas Czech Republic. I find great encouragement every time anyone shows interest in Caritas, not only high-profile public figures. For me this means donors, volunteers, dedicated employees, journalists discussing issues associated with our activities, and people who simply wish us well or pray for our work.

You mentioned the floods. What form did the flood aid take?

Caritas reacted to the floods within hours. It set up a collection account and crisis centers, monitored the situation, and passed on information in the affected areas and to the general public. Caritas is a network of more than 350 Caritas entities in the Czech Republic (on the level of dioceses, cities, regions, parishes). The whole network worked together as one and the Caritas entities in regions not affected by the flooding organized aid for those areas that were affected.

THE CARITAS OF THE ARCHDIOCESE OF PRAGUE CELEBRATED 20 YEARS OF INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION LAST YEAR

Our Caritas of the Archdiocese opened several crisis centers in the first few days and three storage centers for humanitarian aid, where we collected material donations from organizations and individuals. From there we sent aid each day to dozens of affected places. We gave people who had been evacuated from their homes a place to stay. After the flooding subsided, we kept monitoring in all parishes in the Archdiocese and then distributed material and financial aid to 1,500 households based on their needs. I would like to offer great thanks to the selfless workers in our parish Caritas, especially the parish Caritas in Roudnice nad Labem and Neratovice. Other parish Caritas organizations also did a lot of good work, such as Kralupy nad Vltavou, Příbram, Prague Chodov, among others. Without the tireless help of people in these parishes we would not have been able to help as effectively as we did.

➤ The flooding hit you at Caritas as well. How bad was the damage?

Yes, the Mukařov Senior Home had the yard, basement and boiler room flooded. The situation was most critical in the directorate building and especially the St. Christopher Guest House, where the water rose to 1.2 meters. The guest house had to be renovated, which put it out of commission for about six months.

➤ In 2013 a new president of the Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague entered office: Fr. Stanislav Gora. Could you introduce him briefly?

Fr. Stanislav Gora is the parish administrator for the Vršovice parish in Prague. He has been working with us for years as a member of the Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague Council, so Caritas has not been a new environment for him. He was well acquainted with many of our projects here in the Czech Republic and abroad before entering office. His appointment as president was a good choice for us and the parish Caritas in our Archdiocese.

➤ The Czech people have long viewed Caritas as a very trustworthy organi- zation. What kind of support have you seen in the past year from the public and individual donors?

Caritas traditionally opens each new calendar year with a Three Kings collection, with record-breaking results in 2013 and again in 2014. This shows that Caritas is still very popular with the public. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all our donors and carolers. This year's Three Kings collection will support dozens of social services and aid projects in the Prague Archdiocese, including our "diocese plans", which for this year were supporting the Homeless Shelter in Prague 8, helping socially disadvantaged families and people with disabilities, and supporting our hospital in Uganda. The parish Caritas organizations that took part in the Three Kings collection also chose other projects, amounting to several dozen, mostly to do with supporting children from socially disadvantaged families, helping people with disabilities or senior citizens. All these projects are reactions to specific situations in specific places and help showcase the work of our local parish Caritas organizations.

➤ What plans did you make going into 2014?

We have several visions for how to expand the Caritas work in our Archdiocese. All our plans are based on the needs of our clients. We are currently working hard on a new assisted living facility with 40 beds for people with severe forms of dementia. This new facility is being built in collaboration with the Olga Havlová Foundation – Committee of Good Will. Another great need we have observed is social housing for socially disadvantaged families and mothers and children leaving shelters. Of course, we want to work on all our current projects as well, and it is also important for us to support the work of parish Caritas organizations. We would like to have a working Caritas in every larger community, offering social aid in that community as it is able, either on its own or in connection with the Caritas network. These are big plans, but you have to think big to get big results. We believe that we will be able to continue working for the benefit of those Caritas exists to serve. □

Sending Aid Abroad

International Cooperation Center:
Londýnská 44, Prague 2
tel.: 224 246 573
email:
pomocdozahranici@praha.charita.cz

The Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague has been involved in international aid since 1993. Its activities are coordinated by the International Cooperation Center, which sends aid to India, Uganda, Zambia, the Democratic Republic of Congo and Belarus. Our aid traditionally focuses on education, health care including prevention, and supporting community development. The development programs are intended to help whole communities – families, villages, schools. We try to help communities to start helping themselves, thereby contributing to a permanent improvement in the living conditions of local residents.

The projects currently underway include the Child Sponsorship Program, the St. Charles Lwanga Buikwe Hospital (Buikwe, Uganda), a play-based school (Bidar, India), Total Development Project for Village Communities in the Moodbidri Region (Moodbidri, India), Treatment and Therapy for Alcoholism in Bhalki (Bidar, India), and others. We also once again provided financial support to the Ndako Ya Biso Center for Children Living on the Streets (Kinshasa, Democratic Republic of the Congo).

Our activities would not have been possible without thousands of donors from all over the Czech Republic who supported the development projects with gifts of finances, material goods and volunteer work.

The total number of people receiving our international aid was 67,350 in 2013, which included 33,000 in India, 32,000 in Uganda, 1,100 in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, 650 in Belarus and 600 in Zambia. A total of 13,560 children were able to go to school under the Child Sponsorship Program. □

MALNOURISHMENT, HIV/AIDS, BUT ALSO HOPE

The examining physician decided on immediate hospitalization when 18-month-old Mark Wasswa came to the hospital in his mother's arms. The doctor diagnosed malnourishment and the nurses immediately put the boy on special formula. He also had other tests, including blood tests, hemoglobin tests and an HIV test. Unfortunately, his HIV test came back positive, which was one of the main reasons for his malnutrition. Mark's mother is pregnant. She decided to visit the prenatal clinic at the St. Charles Lwanga Buikwe Hospital regularly, where the antiretroviral therapy she receives will give Mark's little brother or sister a good chance of a healthy childhood and life without HIV/AIDS.

A DREAM COME TRUE

I entered the Child Sponsorship Program in 1999 when I was in 5th grade. I am grateful to Mr. Libor and his family in the Czech Republic for all their support, kindness and the encouragement they have given me over the years. In 2013 I graduated with a Master's degree in IT. I work as a teacher in the Narayana high school in Bangalore. My lifelong dream has come true.

Charles, India

COMFORT AND CERTAINTY

I lived on my own in a small house. I often felt unwell and had no one nearby to help me. Here I live just like at home, but I have more comfort and certainty. I go to all the events they have here. Whenever there's a concert or we make something. I have been very happy here since I first came. The adjustment was very easy and I am actually surprised that I am not homesick at all!

I really like the environment and the surroundings here. I am also glad that I have enough privacy and yet I have people nearby. Marie

LOOKING FOR A HOME

I lived with a woman for 23 years and helped her raise two children. I lived for my family. When she started asking me to transfer all our property to her daughter, I resisted at first. Then I gave in. One day I came home and my step-daughter shoved a suitcase in my hands and said nothing belonged to me there anymore, and slammed the door. So I lost my house, car and garden...

I do part-time jobs and am looking for a full-time job with the help of the shelter workers.

SHELTER FOR MOTHER AND SON

I have no parents. Other than an aunt on my father's side, I have nobody at all. The shelter home was my only option – lodging houses are expensive and dangerous and I couldn't afford rent from my maternity leave support. I use all services the shelter home offers: video interaction guidance, parenting classes, social therapy groups. I also benefit from social workers' knowledge in the social sphere. They help me communicate with government offices and institutions. As far as I am concerned, they are gradually fulfilling all the expectations I had.

Lucie

The Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague runs three shelter homes for mothers and children: in Prague, Kralupy nad Vltavou and Brandýs nad Labem. These shelter homes provide temporary accommodations and social support to women and mothers with children who have lost their homes and need help to regain their independence.

At the shelter homes, clients also get help in the form of parenting classes or advice. The shelter project includes video interaction guidance, therapy groups and individual meetings with a social therapist. The goal is to improve the often troubled relationships and communication between parents and children.

The shelter homes for mothers and children operated by the Caritas of the Archdiocese of Prague helped 235 clients and their children in 2013, of which 108 were at the Gloria Shelter Home, 67 at the St. Gerard's Shelter Home, and 59 at the Kralupy nad Vltavou Shelter Home. □

Assisted Living Facility, Adult Day Care Center

ACTIVE DESPITE ILLNESS

I got by with my husband and son as best as we could, until I fell and broke a rib. They took me to the hospital. Then I couldn't stay at home any more. I stayed in a psychiatric hospital for a while, but I just laid in bed the whole time there. Here in the assisted living facility I don't stay in bed, I like to go out on the terrace and for walks with the caregivers. They have a beautiful garden here. We even have window boxes with herbs and flowers. A priest comes to see us and we can go to Mass. I always go – I like to sing. My daughter comes to visit and I tell her not to come so often, because I am well taken care of and I like it here.

HELP FOR A FAMILY IN CRISIS

We had problems we didn't know how to solve. First we used the assisted meetings service, so I could see my daughter in the Magdala Counseling Center in the presence of counseling center employees. The consultations helped us so much that we decided to use the assisted visitation handover between parents. We did not live together at that point, but thanks to the visits at the Magdala Counseling Center I started having contact with my daughter and her mother outside of the center as well.

AFTER THE CHILDREN'S HOME

When I left the children's home, I thought I would live with my mom. But I couldn't find her. I ended up on the streets for three years. Lucky for me I got in here. The workers here help me communicate with government offices, went with me to doctor's appointments, and introduced me to a lady from the protected workshop. Most of all I would like to get a job. I would like someone to teach me to do the job well.

PAYING IT FORWARD

I first came to the Czech Republic to work for a short time. I met my future husband here. He is also from Ukraine but he lives here. I come to Caritas sometimes when I have something

I don't know how to do, like getting insurance for my newborn daughter, extending my visa, getting documents translated, looking for a job, and so on. I have been working with the Migration Center for the past year as a field worker. I am trying to pay forward the help I got and to pass my experiences on.

WORK AS A CALLING

About three years ago I broke my leg at the femur neck. As a result of this injury, I am not as self-sufficient as I used to be. Recently I fell and lost consciousness – my neighbor found me. I couldn't stay in my house all on my own anymore, so I started using the personal assistance service to my complete satisfaction. All the assistants who come to my house are very kind and helpful. I like how responsible they are about doing their job, such as how careful they are to come at the appointed time. You can see that they really enjoy their work and see it as a calling. Milena

MIND STILL AS ACTIVE AS EVER

A creeping paralysis ended up with all my limbs completely paralyzed, but I couldn't settle for letting my mind stay inactive also.

I got the opportunity to work on a computer using a voice operated program without a keyboard.

I welcomed the opportunity to complete a course in Prague, where I had to travel. I needed accommodation as well as assistance for my physical needs, so I asked Fatima for help. Since that time I have been coming back regularly. Ludmila

SPONSOR A HOSPITAL BED

in the St. Charles Lwanga Buikwe Hospital in Uganda

Since 2007, the St. Charles Lwanga Buikwe Hospital in Uganda has been saving the lives and improving the health of tens of thousands of inhabitants in the impoverished rural area of Buikwe. All thanks to donors from the Czech Republic! In the Sponsor a Hospital Bed program, donors can support a specific kind of bed for a certain amount of time.
